Cameron Centennial Celebration In May

Cameron's Centennial celebration will be held in May, it was decided at a meeting of the central committee on Monday night.

The celebration will be held over a period of two days and the dates are to be fixed by the committee, named at the general meeting Monday night.

The committee will meet again Monday night, March 4, and a number of plans will be ready to announce.

A. W. McCullin, President of the Chamber of Commerce, called the meeting here Monday night.

Survey of the townsite of Cameron was made in May 1846. The date of the first incorporation is obscure. Like most communities records were not kept. The earliest date now known for a government was in the 1880's. B. I. Arnold was the first Mayor in Cameron.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR CENTENNIAL HERE

Cameron's oversize Centennial Committee was streamlined here Monday night when a central body of five men were named to direct the observance of the city's 100th Anniversary.

The men named are: L. Van Perkins, J. M. Boehner, Johnnie Andres, Mrs. John B Henderson and E. C. Cole.

A finance committee was named as follows: O. B. Horstmann, chairman, Albert Collins, and H. B. McClellen.

It was agreed that the sum of $5000 would be raised to defray the expenses of the celebration. It was decided to hold the two-day celebration in May, the month in which the town site was surveyed out in 1846.

The committees were to meet in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 4:30 Wednesday, February 27, 1946 to make decisions that will bind the program to a definite pattern.

Organization for an observance on the scale of a Centennial can hardly be overestimated. It was hoped that everyone connected with the official plans are fully conversant with what will be necessary if an adequate interpretation is given a vast panaroma of history.

The models are sedans, the Dodge, a flashy maroon and the Plymouth, a striking new blue.

Many have already seen these cars. The formal display here Saturday will bring many Dodge and Plymouth owners to Cameron and the general public will be interested in these new cars, showing here for the first time.

Mr. Schiller said that he plans to allocate these cars as fairly as possible and will give ex-service men the better deal by selling 50 per cent of the cars, or every other delivery, to men who have come out of the armed services.

The new cars are advanced editions of automotive engineering and well typify what the motorist will get in the post war period in fine motor cars.

Allen died in the street near the Riggins home from gunshot and knife wounds. The fight started when Riggins found Allen in his home.

Camp & Camp represented the defendant.

Abraham Walker, Negro Leader Died February 15

Abraham Walker, 63, negro leader and widely known farmer, died at his home on the H. F. Smith farm, February 15, 1946.

Walker was born and reared on this plantation and at the time of his death was foreman on the farms and ranch. He was born July 16, 1882.

For more than two years Walker had been in ill health and was not able to perform his duties with his long accustomed vigor, but on account of his valuable knowledge of farming and his long record of service on these farms, there was never any thought of displacing him. He continued to be foreman of these plantations until his death.

He was the son of the late Rev. Richmond Walker and Patsey Walker, and one of 13 children, all of them born on the Smith farms. There now survive of this large family, Anna Moore of Kansas City; Bertha Howard of Waco; three brothers, Amos Walker and M. C. Walker of Cameron Route 3 and D. S. Walker of Branchville. He was first married to Veetta Epperson, who died many years ago and to them were born four children, two daughters, Williford of San Antonio; Creola Nelson, a Prairie View Normal graduate and now teaching in the Milano colored school; two sons, Commodore Walker, graduate of Prairie View, and vocational teacher, and Tyler McWhorter, a Paul Quinn graduate and now living in San Antonio. Of his second marriage to Pauline Pleasant, sister of Jim Pleasant with the Missouri Pacific at Milano for more than 30 years, there were born two daughters, Joyce and Ruth Walker. His widow and six children survive.

Bad Roads Isolate Large Farming Area West of Cameron; Need Urgent

Recent rains have again marooned the people living in the Marak, Yarrellton, and North Elm communities. School bus schedules were disrupted and mail service from Cameron and Buckholts was suspended until the flood waters of Elm Creek receded. Incidentally there is no phone service. In other words you cannot phone a doctor, much less get one. This condition is not unusual since Elm creek overflows at the slightest pretext. The people of these communities are hemmed in by Elm creek, North Elm creek, and impassible mud in the direction of Temple. These communities, embracing the richest farming section of the county, have the poorest roads.

Steps have been taken to remedy the situation and a proposed farm-to-market road will also benefit Splawn. This road starts at Yarrellton and runs due east to Splawn (Watts Switch) in almost a straight line. Marak citizens will use this road only during high water but will receive the benefits of mail and school bus service every day as well as medical service. This road will be a boon to the residents of the Splawn community. Possibly it will mean that they will get mail service at their front door. This road will see daily use by the Yarrellton and North Elm communities.

The preliminary survey has been made. The right of way is to be furnished by the county. The road will be built and maintained by the State Highway Department. The road is approximately six and one-half miles long and will be surfaced with asphalt. North Elm will be bridged and all drainage structures will be above the high water mark. The county is unable to purchase the right of way and securing the road is left squarely up to the communities involved. The cooperation and community spirit exhibited thus far promises that the right of way will be quickly gotten. Everyone approached about donating land for the road has been glad to donate "if everyone else will." Extremely gratifying has been the response of land owners living in Cameron. One large land owner lives in Waco and is glad to help in this progressive step.

Practically all land owners have been contacted and thus far none have shown the slightest hesitancy about donating their strip of land for the road.

One enterprising North Elm resident whose home was on the right of way has torn it down and is rebuilding it just off the new highway. Another stated that he could not build a road but he could build another tank and has already done so. This shows how anxious and impatient these good people are. They are very anxoius for the engineers to complete the survey so right of way stakes can be set and field notes made and the actual right of way gotten as quickly as possible.

Plans will have to be made after the right of way is gotten and bids will have to be taken. Farm-to-market road contracts are already being let by the Highway department. None will be more needed than this road and these communities have committees ready to start securing the right of way as quickly as the survey is made.

It occurs to the writer that the state could get a much better bid from the contractor on the Little River bridge jub since he already has all his machinery and equipment here. And also it would be a big help to good roads in this section if the Highway Department would locate a Resident Engineer here. The Chamber of Commerce would certainly be glad to assist in any way in getting this done. That organization is for anything that will benefit Cameron and Milam county.

Cpl. N. E. Barron, Rodeo Star, Knows His Horses And Found Army Life Just Like Texas; Served In Australia and Burma Supplying Mounts

Cpl. N. E. Barron of Cameron knows his horses and found army life just like Texas for he served on two continents as a re-mount expert, conditioning cavalry horses to be used in the combat zones.

The army has many services and Cpl. Barron, because of his training in civilian life and his rodeo experience, led to his special training and assignment to duty on two continents —Australia and Burma.

Cpl. Barron has been discharged and plans to go back to his work as a professional rodeo performer. He wears the army campaign ribbons for China-India and Burma theatres. He spent 13 months overseas. He entered service on December 23, 1942 and trained at Fort Riley, Kansas, being assigned to the remount service. His job was breaking and reconditioning horses for the cavalry.

The campaign in Burma was one in which pack mules were needed so Cpl. Barron lost little time in getting down to brass tacks. Many Australian and American mules found their way to British and Chinese forces in Burma. There the country is jungle and mountains. Cpl. Barron has two battle stars.

In Australia Cpl. Barron and the men in his outfit went out to the ranches just as they do in Texas and rounded up the horses and broke them. They had about 4000 head of horses and 500 head of mules. There were 15 Texans in the outfit, but all were fair horsemen. They had regular hours of work with breaking and stable crews.

Like the old time trail drivers in Texas the herd originated in the horse country of Australia and ended in Burma. The only difference was that when the stock was ready to move they loaded out ships and set out across the Indian Ocean. Sometimes the temperature was 130 degrees in India. Going over for duty

Christian Science Services

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 3.

The Golden Text is: "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment, and justice in the earth . . . And this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS" (Jeremiah 23:5,6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name" (John 1:12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ expresses God's spiritual, eternal nature" (page 333).

Another reason doctors are prescribing infant feeding formulas based on Daricraft homogenized evaporated milk is its "sunshine" Vitamin D content.

Vitamin D is added under A.R.P.I. process . . . controlled to assure uniform, high vitamin potency of the activated Ergosterol concentrate used to fortify Daricraft with added Vitamin D.

Daricraft is also a rich source of Vitamins A and B . . . so essential to baby's proper development, and to older children and adults.

The fresh whole milk from which Daricraft evaporated milk is processed is from select, inspected cows pastured on mineral-rich Ozark meadows. Daricraft is uniform in quality, with not less than 7.9% butterfat and 25.9% of total milk solids.

Yankee Touch Seen In "Captain Kidd"

Charles Laughton has put the Yankee touch on the English pirate Kidd. In "Captain Kidd," coming to the Cameron Theatre Saturday thru United Artists, he models his characterization of the pirate king, at least partially, on the man whom he describes as "the greatest bandit America has produced."

Jesse James? The Daltons? The Youngers, Joaquin, Murriets? Small potatoes these, according to Laughton, The Yankee, William Plummer, takes the cake in a gallows' noose.

Sheriff Plummer and his outlaw band rode the wild plains of the West over a hundred years before Captain Kidd hoisted the black flag over the seven seas. But English pirate and Yankee bandit had much in common. Plummer looted the Montana miners of their gold dust from behind his badge as sheriff. And Kidd ravaged the King's ships of the King's treasures under permit of the King's own Royal Seal. Clever scalawags these, hoodwinking the world of law and order.

Mrs. Watson was the wife of District Judge John Watson. The judge went to Dallas to be with Mrs. Watson. Her condition was not regarded as critical until a few days before her death. News of her passing was received here and over this section with shock and sorrow.

Judge Watson and all members of the family, and Dr. and Mrs. James Watson were with Mrs. Watson when she passed away.

Mrs. Watson was born in Brenham, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Bassett. Her father was a lawyer at Brenham. The family moved to Dallas when Mrs. Watson was two years of age and she was reared in Dallas. Ben H. Bassett at the time of his death was head of the law department at the University of Texas and had been a university teacher for several years. He died in 1892. Mrs. Watson graduated from college and became a school teacher and in 1896 came to Cameron to accept a place on the faculty of local schools. After two years here she was married to Judge Watson, then a young attorney. They were married on July 20, 1898.

Surviving are her husband, Judge John Watson of the 20th Judicial District at Cameron, and five children as follows: Mrs. Donald Kilgore of Dallas; Bassett Watson of Waco; Paul Watson of Taylor; Mrs. John R. Baldwin of Goose Creek; and Capt. John B. Watson of Dallas. Three sisters survive as follows: Mrs. E. B. Muse and Mrs. H. P. May of Dallas, and Mrs. Hope B. McCalla of Houston. Seven grand children also survive.

Wise of Maysfield; Mrs. Sam Harrell and daughters of Jones Prairie.

WALKER

Walker's worth and character was evidenced by 105 telegrams and letters received by the family. Attending the funeral services were a large number of colored people from many sections of Texas and some from out of state. Among the white people present, several expressed their appreciation of Abe Walker as a man: Dr. J. S. Hubert said, "I could depend on anything he said. He was a man of honor, good judgment and I know of no better man. He was one in a thousand."

Oxsheer Smith, accompanied by all members of the H. F. Smith family and who was asked by the Walker family to speak at the funeral said: "My friendship goes back to the very beginning. His father went for the doctor the night I was born." Mr. Smith then gave an interesting account of the many times their lives had touched and ended with a beautiful eulogy.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m., February 18, 1946 at Cox Providence church of which he was a leading member. Services were conducted by Rev. L. C. Caldwell, pastor. Walker was a high official in the colored Masonic Lodge and was buried with full lodge honors by Cox Providence colored Masonic Lodge.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Ollie Mapes and The Streamlined House

The other day a construction firm set up an exhibit in the courthouse square. They built a new "house of the future"—and invited folks to see it.

Drew quite a crowd—with the women sighing over the shiny kitchen, and the men admiring the heating units and insulation.

All except Ollie Mapes. He looks around a spell and goes home. When I get there, he's sitting before his old dutch fireplace, with his feet on the screen, and a mellow glass of beer in hand.

"You know," quotes Ollie, "it takes a heap of living to make a home."

Looking around, I see what Ollie means. A room crowded with memories of a life well spent—and the friendly habits of a happy home, from a blazing old-fashioned fire, to a mellow glass of beer with friends. From where I sit, those things do more to make a home than modern streamlined gadgets.

Soldiers Must Re-Enlist Within 20 Days For Reenlistment Furlough

"The Amendment to War Department Circular 310 which extended the time for reenlistment and retention of stripes to three months, did not change the fact that, in order to obtain a reenlistment furlough, with travel pay to and from where the furlough is to be spent, a soldier must reenlist within twenty days," Lt. Ted Lewellen, Officer in Charge of the U. S. Army Recruiting Station in Temple, stated today. "We, of the Recruiting Service, would like to talk to every soldier immediately after his discharge so that we could advise them properly and see that they do not miss any of the new opportunities offered by the Regular Army of the United States," Lt. Lewellen continued.

"We want all men to receive their mustering out pay promptly, to get their reenlistment bonuses promptly, to secure their reenlistment furloughs with their travel pay in advance of the furlough, to assure them of their ration money while on this furlough, to show that they get their full soldier's pay throughout the furlough.

"It is our duty to help reenlistees get in the branch of their choice, to tell them of the theatres of operation in which they may choose to serve, to advise them how they can reenlist to fill their own vacancy and other pertinent facts," Lt. Lewellen concluded.

"Frontier Gal" Opens At Cameron Sunday

Adventure and romance are the two chief ingredients of Universal's new Technicolor production, "Frontier Gal," due to open at the Cameron Theatre, Sunday for two days. Sensational Yvonne De Carlo, who starred in "Salome, Where She Danced," is teamed with Rod Cameron again in the new thriller.

Written and produced by Michael Fessier and Ernest Pagano, two of Hollywood's most successful movie-making craftsmen, "Frontier Gal," is described as one of the season's spectacular melodramas. A big improvement has been made in a hearing aid now welcomed by thousands. It is a new hearing aid that does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, battery case or garment to bulge or weight you down. So small it fits the palm of the hand. About half the weight and bulk of most hearing aids. The tone is natural, noiseless, clear and powerful. The makers of Beltone are so proud of their achievement that they have arranged for their representative, Beltone Co. at 1610 North Sixth St., Waco, Texas, to send you a free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny. # COFFIELD WINS CASE IN SUIT APPEAL HERE

H. H. Coffield of Rockdale, widely known capitalist and industrial leader, won a verdict in the Court of Civil Appeals at Austin Wednesday in a case that originated in District Court here.

S. W. Sibley of Dallas, entered a suit against Coffield for $25,000, alleging a fee involving the sale of the Kirby Building in Dallas. Judge John Watson held that Sibley, not being a licensed real estate dealer, was ineligible to operate and as such was not entitled to the fee.

Sibley took an appeal and lost. In the testimony before Judge Watson, attorneys for Sibley introduced a letter from Oxsheer Smith, co-owner with Coffield of the Kirby building, attempting to show that Coffield had agreed to the sale. This Coffield denied. Smith, it was said, wished to buy the Coffield interest in the building.

Here is an Austin dispatch covering the action by the Court of Civil Appeals:

AUSTIN.—Because he did not have a security dealer's license, S. W. Sibley cannot sue for a $25,000 fee in the Main and Akard Investment Corporation, owner of the Kirby Building in Dallas, the Court of Civil Appeals held here Wednesday. The transaction never was completed, however, and Sibley sued Coffield for the $25,000 in Milam County District Court.

According to Associate Justice M. B. Blair's opinion, Coffield and Smith each owned a half interest in the corporation and each owned a half interest in a second lien note for $762,750 against the Kirby Building. Smith offered to buy Coffield's interest for $660,000 with a stipulation that Coffield pay Sibley's $25,000 commission. Coffield agreed to pay the $25,000 if Smith would raise his offer to $700,000, which offer Sibley obtained, according to the record.

The arrangement for Coffield to sell his half of Main and Akard Investment Corporation classified Sibley as a dealer in securities under the Texas Securities Act, and prohibits Sibley from maintaining the suit, for lack of a security dealer's license, Blair wrote.

Health Department is Conducting School for Food Handlers in State

In a vigorous campaign to elevate the state health level by preventing the spread of communicable diseases which might be transmitted by foods, the State Department of Health is conducting training schools for food handlers in many sections of Texas, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer of Austin.

"Food handlers are being taught the sanitary methods of preparing, handling, and serving foods for public consumption," Dr. Cox said. "Actual experience has shown that an insanitary eating establishment is one of the surest sources of spreading infection. Public health is menaced by the lack of proper sanitation in food handling and our goal is the education of cooks, waiters, butchers, bakers, fountain men, and all other food handlers to such a level as will insure the elimination of this health hazard."

The training schools consist of elementary courses in bacteriology, communicable diseases, medical zoology, foods, disinfection, sterilization, personal hygiene, and sanitation.

These schools for food handlers which have been well received wherever held may be booked in any health unit of the State of Texas upon request from the director of the local unit, addressed to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

BARRON

Cpl. Barron landed in Australia on September 17, 1943 and then moved into India in October 1944. They carried seven ship loads of horses to India and Burma.

Cpl. Barron says the Australian horse is about the same size as the American horse. Cpl. Barron was in charge of a crew of men to break wild horses. The stock was turned over to our Allies on lend-lease. He was stationed at Ledo, India. He was never sick or wounded. Going over from Australia they had a sub scare.

Cpl. Barron said he fashioned his saddle as he liked it here in Cameron. After they got into Burma the monsoons set in. They last for four months and it was very disagreeablei on the trail. They had to move the horses and pack mules out of Ledo in India. The trails led away to the mountains. It was the Ledo-Burma road. On his first trip up it rained on them nine days and nights. They would deliver the pack mules and horses up to the battle lines and there Chinese crews would take over.

"We took all our feed with us. We fed mostly red oats. We had to be very careful. There were elephants, too, and monkeys by the hundreds. Those monkeys would invade our camps. They liked mirrors and would take them away.
